

To whom it may concern,

Honestly, I normally don't do letters of recommendation, but I made an exception with Jessica because she was outstanding!

I was very impressed with her skills in marketing and overall planning, creating, and launching marketing campaigns for my company.

She also oversaw lead development and beta testing of the multiplierX, implementing some significant changes by working hand-in-hand with my developer.

I thought she was also a great multitasker, staying busy all the time. Overall, she was an excellent employee that I highly recommend for any position, creative or clerical, and I would gladly hire her back again.
